A STATEMENT.

The general excellence which distinguishes our bottled beers is not due to good materials alone, or to the skill with which they are converted into the amber fluid, but in a measure to the great care which is exercised in bottling. If exposed to change of temperature, beer will suffer. Our beer is bottled at the same temperature at which it leaves the vaults, thereby insuring that vivacity and perfect condition for which it is justly celebrated.

IN MEMORY OF BRAVE MEN

Monument Unveiled by Confederate Veterans.

NOT FAR FROM WASHINGTON

Erected at Woodside Station on the B. & O. Road, Where Seventeen Southern Soldiers Fell During Early's Raid—Camp from Leesburg, Rockville and Baltimore Attended.

The Confederate Veteran Association was out in full force today to witness the unveiling of the monument erected in Grace Church Cemetery, Woodside station, about seven miles from Washington. The monument is to perpetuate the memory of the seventeen comrades who were killed July 12, 1864. The Washington camp was re-enforced by those of Leesburg, Baltimore, Rockville, and by the Ladies' Southern Relief Society.

Gen. Samuel S. Blackburn.

A large number of ladies were present, and Southern Relief badges were the popular emblems of the day. The ladies joined heartily in the shouts of enthusiasm which the sight of the monument evoked from the veterans.

JUDGE BLACKWELL'S ORATION.

When the soft strains of Southern melodies, played by Prof. Weber's band, had died away, Rev. Dr. McKim, of this city, invoked the Divine blessing, and Maj. E. Byrd Lewis, presiding officer for the day, began the exercises with a few felicitous remarks relative to the order of the exercises. He then introduced Judge Samuel S. Blackwell, the orator of the occasion. Judge Blackwell stated the object of the meeting, and paid a glowing tribute to the seventeen brave men who died in response to what they believed to be the call of duty. He exhorted the whole people, North and South, to nurture patriotic feelings, and the tendency to lose control of the passions and dash into a bolder or side wall is ever present.

Slouch hats are superseding caps to a perceptible extent, and young men who look like the "real thing" are wearing them. The fashion originated at the college, where it is emphasized to the extent of even somnolence.

From the point of fitness and comfort the headgear is admirable, and sensible riders will never cast aside the snug and easy cap for it.

Do you realize that it is just as fatiguing to ride down a very steep grade as it is to climb up the same grade? Besides, it's a million times as dangerous. The effort of backpedaling on a 34 per cent grade is exhausting, and the tendency to lose control of the pedals and dash into a bolder or side wall is ever present.

STORM WRECKED A STEAMER

Wallula and Two Sailors Lost Near Cleveland.

Captain Ordered Her Scuttled. Driven on Shore and Burned. A Complete Loss.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 14.—The steamer Wallula, on her way from Ashland, Wis., to Connetquot, O., went ashore while trying to make her way through the ice. When it appeared as though she was going to miss her pier the crew scuttled her, hoping to make her right up. The effort was a failure and she went on to the rocks.

She pointed heavily and it was with the greatest difficulty that part of her crew were rescued. Two seamen were drowned.

Just as the last man was taken off the ship burst forth in a blaze and was destroyed.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the big steamer was first noticed coming in. She sent up signals of distress. Two men tried to get out to her, but were beaten off by the ice.

The Wallula was very heavily laden and rolled and rocked heavily. Finally the crew lost control of her. All efforts to steer were abandoned and she was driven on to the rocks.

A big crowd gathered on shore and watched the ship as she tossed about. The captain resorted to heroic measures to save her as long as possible.

The ship was accordingly scuttled. Either the captain's orders were misunderstood or the sailors acted with too great energy, for too many sea cocks were opened and one was broken. The result was that the water rushed in rapidly and the ship was lost.

She was in great danger of going down among the rocks. Lines were sent aboard and ten of the twelve men aboard were taken off. Two others were lost overboard. The raising men were known as "Wilson" and "Pat." The ship did not sink, but was driven ashore. A spiral flame shot up from her. This broke into a fierce blaze.

The rescued seamen were cared for on shore. The Wallula was owned by Thomas Wilson of this city and was valued at $80,000; insured for $70,000. She was in command of Capt. Holmes.

SEWALL'S SCREW LOOSE.

Says the Election Was Really a Great Silver Victory.

New York, Nov. 14.—Arthur Sewall of Maine, late candidate of the Democratic party for Vice President, is at the Holland House. He was seen as he was at breakfast by a number of his friends.

Mr. Sewall said that his visit here had absolutely nothing to do with politics. He is on his way to Florida.

The recent election, he said, "was a great silver victory, when it is considered that the whole power of the United States was arrayed in opposition to the silver cause."

"The silver cause was never so vigorous as now, and far from dying out, it will continue to be the great political issue and will be victorious four years hence. The future looks very bright for silver."

POLITICS AND RAILROADS

Republicans Charge Conspiracy in a Proposed Lease.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 14.—It had been arranged that private stockholders of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railway, in which the State owns two-thirds interest, should meet yesterday to ratify its lease to a syndicate for a term of years at 2 1/2 per cent per annum on three millions of capital stock, but private stockholders secured a restraining order and this is being held December 1.

Republicans allege that the Democratic administration is attempting to make the road a Democratic asset that the lease is a good financial policy.

RUSSIA'S PREPARATIONS FOR WAR.

London, Nov. 14.—The Daily News publishes a dispatch from Odessa, saying that an order has been received from the Russian admiralty at every Russian port for all naval reserve officers to hold themselves in readiness to assemble at Sebastopol, if they are summoned, at any time in December. The cruiser Pamay, Merkur, belonging to the Black Sea fleet, is hastily fitting out to transport troops.
